IT Consulting

Our precise methods aim at the sole target of bringing solutions by using or applying in a different way existing resources. The approach used by our experts in the specific sectors is based on the following steps:

- Developing a set of specifications by observing the strengths and weaknesses
- Drafting a number of preliminary potential solutions
- Researching existing academic, business cases and best practices
- Drafting an implementation plan including SWOT-analysis and impact assessment
- Developing different scenarios including the success scenario and its alternatives
- Providing a fully planned solution
- Observing the performance of the solution both in the short and long run

Our team of experts focuses on finding solutions to current issues, but their impact should be equally beneficial to the company in the future.

E+Learning

e+learning. We follow a simple method. After assessing the current situation vs. the desired educational goal, we create the material offline with an emphasis on contents and then adapt to the online environment taking advantage of interactive elements. We complete this with a testing and certification module.

- Planning Stage
- Educational Contents Creation Stage
- E-Learning Technology Adaptation Stage
- Evaluation Stage
- Behavioral Changes Checklist

Training programs for companies and organizations. Our experts in the field are ready to provide you with key knowledge in workflows and software that are used each day in your company.

IT HR Staffing

Our HR consultants focus on matching your HR needs with the correct executive. Our strategies are based on a mix of traditional and modern methods and, most importantly, designed to be tailored according to individual needs. Our success is guaranteed by the experience, quality and responsibility of our consultants.

We are specialized in bringing the individual candidates' skills and talents to the surface and in assisting companies and organizations in recruiting professionals for short-term or permanent contracts. These professionals qualify if their values match their employers' business and if they dedicate themselves to your success.

We believe in a world where “job” does not exist as everyone is following their passion expressing their talents in their “career”. A reality where nobody has “employees” but dedicated collaborators whose values and attitude are naturally in line with the company’s philosophy.
